Norm Out Next Week

This year's Norm editor, Esther Bracken, announces that the annual will be ready for distribution some time next week. However no copies can be given out until every organization has paid for its write-up. The remaining fee will be $1.50, and is to be paid at the time the book is received. There will be a few extra copies available at $3.00 in the business office in the administration building. However, it is advisable if you have not already contracted for a copy of the Norm to do so at once.

The Norm is slightly smaller this year than last, because of lack of funds, but several new and clever ideas have been introduced to make up for the lack of size. The staff has worked very hard and cooperated well in order to put this book across, and if hard work is assurance of success, the Norm will really be very good.

Hats Featured At Banquet

Hats—old time hats—furnished a novel feature of the program at the alumni banquet during the Educational Conference. Old styles were borrowed from here and there and displayed to liken the changes in styles to the changes in the name of our own school. To those who prefer Oregon Normal School to Oregon College of Education, one might say this, although we are sometimes reluctant to accept innovations, we soon grow accustomed to changes and eventually like them. So it is with hats. Each year revisions are made (for the better or for the worse) but underneath are the same essentials. In the hat display were little ones, big ones with plumes, and some mirth-provoking styles resembling those of today.

A hint to the wise girl of today—save this season's hat for future use. Twenty years from now you can have a look and a laugh at what used to be the thing.

Hornbeck To Speak

Stanley K. Hornbeck of the Department of State will speak at the Northwest Institute of International Relations, it was announced this week. Mr. Hornbeck is adviser on Far Eastern Affairs to the State Department. He is to be presented in several "Town Meeting" discussions and will deliver lectures when the institute meets from June 18 to 28 at Reed college in Portland.

The institute, under the directorship of Dr. G. Bernard Noble of Reed college and Dr. Victor P. Morris of the University of Oregon, has scheduled a program which includes many authorities on international relations. It plans to deal with every phase of the question and is open to the public of the northwestern states.

Dual Track Meet Lost to Bearcats

Thursday, May 4, the OCE Wolves lost a track and field meet to Willamette university that featured a story-book finish and a two-mile duel between Bryant, OCE, and Olseth, WU. The score was 63-63 going into the relay, and when the first two OCE relay men built up a 20-yard lead it looked like a meet in the bag. However, the little red gods of bad luck dogged Jim Davies, Wolf third man, and he pulled a leg muscle and was forced to withdraw, Willamette winning the meet 68 to 63.

Bryant and Olseth, in the two-mile run, ran almost neck and neck during the last of the race. The final 60 yards was a nip and tuck duel with Bryant winning by about six small inches. The meet was held at Salem. The results:

120-yard low hurdles—won by Hogenson, W; Johnson, OCE, second; McKeel, W, third. Time :17.1.

100-yard dash—won by Robertson, W; Davies, OCE, second; Putman, W; third. Time :10.5.

Mile—won by Bryant, OCE; Olseth, W, second; Ewing, W, third. Time 4:50.

440—won by Lilly, W; Hogenson, W, second; Coleman, OCE, third. Time :53.8.

220-low hurdles—won by Weakley, W; Davies, OCE, second; Johnson, OCE, third. Time :28 seconds flat.

220-yard dash—won by Davies, OCE; Putnam, W, second; Chapman, W, third. Time :23.1.

880—won by Jensen, OCE; Bryant, OCE, second; Grannis, W, third. Time 2:07.4.

Pole vault—won by Hogan, OCE; Putnam, W, second; Chapman, W, third. Height 11 feet, six inches.

Musical Assembly Program Given

At the assembly Monday, May 8, the students and faculty heard an excellent musical program presented by the Dallas high school glee club under the direction of Bruce Eckman. The program consisted of a variety of numbers by the mixed chorus, two solos, and two numbers by the girls' trio which won first place in Class C of the State Music Tournament at Forest Grove.

Mr. Eckman was graduated from OCE in 1937.

FRUM-WILLIAMS

Saturday, May 20, Vivian Frum of OCE will be married to Pete Williams of Willamette university. Mr. Williams is a member of Theta Delta Phi, an honor he received while he attended Southern Oregon College of Education before his entrance at Willamette. Some of the football fans will remember him as Pacific coast all-star quarterback last year.

OCE Graduate Writes Books

In the book review section of the New York Times there recently appeared a review of a book written by Kenneth Munford, a 1935 graduate of OCE, who is now teaching.

Mr. Munford's book entitled "John Ledyard, an American Marco Polo," is an "extraordinary story against a broad and colorful background which itself is peopled with many famous men." John Ledyard is a character well worth a place in one's personal collection of historical men of daring.

At the close of the Revolution, John Ledyard appeared in Boston, Philadelphia and New York, telling of the unknown Pacific Coast where he had just visited the shores of Alaska. He earnestly urged the possibilities of wealth in the far Northwest. Ledyard sailed around the world with Captain Cook, and fought with the Hawaiian savages when Captain Cook was killed. He began a journey to the west coast of America via eastern Siberia which ended in arrest at Irkutsk by Catharine the Great, of that country on suspicion of being a French spy. He escaped safely. At the age of 38, Ledyard died on an expedition to Cairo.

This fascinating book by a former graduate of this school will prove well worth reading.

Juniors Nominate For 1939-40

May 17, 1939 the junior class held a meeting for the purpose of nominating officers for the year of 1939-1940. Those who were nominated were required to be in their fifth or sixth term next fall when they take office.

The nominees were: President, Leo Blodgett, Ed Miller, and Paul Wherly.

Vice-president—Jerome Hanlon and Grace Tienken.

Secretary-treasurer—Daisy Minton, Hilma Wilner and Elizabeth Grant.

Girls' representative to student council—Charlotte Ellingsworth. Marjorie Buck and Jean Ervin.

Boys' representative to student council—Ervin Meade, Ray Williams, Earl Tuthill and Bill Emigh.

To Attend Royalty

Betty Endreson of Portland received word recently that she is to serve as an attendant to the Crown Prince and Princess of Norway this week. This is quite an honor for one of our coeds.

THANKS!

We wish to express our appreciation to the merchants for their cooperation in advertising in the Lamron. We also wish to thank the students for their cooperation in patronizing the merchants who advertised in our paper.—The Business Staff.

Williams New Student President

Following a somewhat fiery siege of campaigning, the associated student body election was held Tuesday, May 16, and the leaders for next year were chosen as follows: Harvey Williams, Parkdale, president; Dexter McCarty, Boring, vice-president; and Jeanne Appleberry, Tigard, secretary. They will compose next year's executive council. Other nominees for the offices were as follows: president, Ervin Meade and Ed Miller; vice-president, Stephen Schmid; secretary, Virginia Craven, Juanita Harrington, Dorothy Smith and Lenora Jensen.

Motion Picture Sponsored

In order that the depleted funds of the associated student body may be replenished, the committee has decided to sponsor a motion picture at the Ross theatre, Monmouth, on May 18, 19 and 20.

The Leo McCarey production, "Love Affair" is a brilliant movie, and its brace of magical marquee names combined with brilliant dialogue and setting, and a subtle hint of sophistication should make it enjoyable to every type of person. It is the poignant romance of an international Casanova (not Meyer) and a luxury-loving lady who try to beat love at its own game. Any audience will be moved by its soul-satisfying blend of tears and laughter. Irene Dunne, as Terry, and Charles Boyer, as Michel, in the leading roles offer very satisfying bits of acting.

Just in case some of the students of OCE feel interested enough in the activities of the school to see them continued, this is a most enjoyable opportunity to prove their interest in the doings of their school. After all, fellow-sufferers, it's our school—let's make it one to be proud of. The prices are the same as usual, but remember, there's much more at stake!

Campbell Hall

Administration Building
Monmouth Training School
Physical Education Building

SATURDAY EVENING
8:00—Program in Campbell Hall

SUNDAY MORNING
10:00-10:45—Morning Music Service in Campbell Hall.

Program Planned For Parents

At 8:00 o'clock Saturday evening, in Campbell hall, a program will be presented for the entertainment of the parents of the students of OCE. The program, with Ed Miller of St. Helens as master of ceremonies, will be divided into two parts. The first part will be a play by the play production class, under the direction of Mrs. Beulah S. Thornton. The title of the play is "Finger Bowls and Aramintha," a clever comedy of small town life as contrasted with big city ways.

The second part of the program is made up of various numbers by the students as follows: Vocal solo, Lorna Barham; vocal solo, Leota Reetz; accordion solo, Rudolph Rada; reading, Pearl Sovern; piano solo, modern trend, Genevieve Jones; piano solo, classical, Mildred Ostlund; dynamic rhythms, Martha Blair and group.

This promises to be very interesting.

Reporters Vie For Trophy

All those reporters who have worked on the Lamron staff this school year are eligible to compete for the trophy that is to be awarded for the most material printed in the several issues of the paper. A file of the Lamron editions will be placed in the Lamron office, and all reporters are requested to come in and sign their writings. The printed matter will then be measured, and the reporter who has written the most inches of news will be awarded the cup. This is quite an opportunity for some hard-working reporter to be recognized for his labors. Hence all those who have worked on the staff should not hesitate to come in and sign their literary efforts.

Cooperative Formal Staged

Plans for the spring formal of the Arnold Arms and Cornelius hall girls were completed at a joint house meeting Tuesday, May 9. The event was held at Arnold Arms, Friday evening, May 12, at nine o'clock. Spring flowers were attractively arranged for the decoration scheme.

Sophia Economus, newly elected vice-president of the Arnold Arms, was chairman of the formal and Anne Drasdo of Cornelius hall was chairman of the decoration committee.

Old Record Equalled

The school record for the mile, set at 4:47 by Slawson in 1929, the oldest record on the list, was surpassed by diminutive Jack Bryant in a meet at Linfield college three weeks ago.

This was Bryant's first mile in competition this season, so perhaps we may look forward to a new record sometime this spring.

WHY NOT COOPERATE?

Sometimes, as one considers the activities (or should it more properly be called in-activities?) of the OCE Associated Student Body, one wonders just what can possibly be the reason why so many members are unwilling to cooperate and thus make the efforts of the others seem so futile. There seems to be present in our school an attitude of indifference which seems almost impenetrable. The problem lies with the individual student to solve the difficulties of the present situation. Cooperation, a little less destructive criticism, and more enthusiasm can promote any activity. Therefore, each member of the student body should feel that it is his own responsibility to make a success of the suggested money-raising schemes under way.

Students, we cannot expect the faculty to make a success of student activities and so stop complaining on that score and look to your own activities. Those conspicuous by their absence at the student body meeting, the raffle, and other student affairs are those whose inability to cooperate in promoting school affairs marks them as narrow, uneducated, and undemocratic young people.

There will be more opportunities to prove that this school can compare favorably with others of its size. The motion picture, "Love Affair," May 18, 19, 20, will be the next opportunity for those who wish to show that there is still such a thing as enthusiasm. Come on, Gang! Let's put OCE on a paying basis! —SUE RICHARDSON

What's this, McGlinn? First we see you at Cornelius hall and then at Arnold Arms?

Well, well, Meyers. What's that cute name a certain girl has been calling you?

And Vleck is trying to tell us that a tennis racquet caused that black eye!

How far do you think baby talk will get you, Kanne?

Say, Dixon, didn't you make several dates at the formal?

Anna Belle F. got quite a shower not so long ago—"sacking" is some fun, isn't it, Anna Belle?

Pat Young, how does it feel to wait and wait all the time he's in bed?

Lost: Joan Gibson from social hour. Why the hasty exit?

We find the OSC boys are doing mighty fine here on said campus.

We noticed some plenty nice team work at the Cornelius-Arms formal.

And Bill Welgel thinks Virginia Craven's an awfully nice girl. She is, Bill.

Thanks, Chet and Meeker, for trying to create some more news. Some of the girls, however, didn't want to flirt! Too bad! !

And some of the junior girls tell us they should be in by 9:00 o'clock on week nights. Why, girls, don't be so juvenile! !

We hear vague rumors that Mickey didn't approve when Johnny Cannon made a date with a certain blonde. Oh, well, Mickey, that only goes to show that gentlemen DO prefer blondes.

Gee, Dorothy, it seems like you are running a close race with Bulz for Vance's affections. Or, maybe it isn't so close after all! Better snap out of it, kid!

We understand Meyer practices skiing at the social hours. He usually uses Lenora Jensen's shoes to make his telemark turns on.

Library News

Information of interest and importance to students of economics and engineering is to be found in a little book about the Coulee dam recently added to the college library.

The 48-page booklet was prepared by the Division of Information of the Department of the Interior as a means of making available answers to the numerous questions received daily by the United States Bureau of Reclamation, designer and builder of the dam. It tells of the historical events and economic considerations leading up to the initiation of the Columbia Basin Reclamation Project, of the technical features of the designing and building of the world's largest structure and of the national social and economic significance of the undertaking.

Faculty News

Several faculty members attended the concert presented in Portland Saturday by Jeanette McDonauld, M.G.M. actress. Those attending were Mrs. Florence Hutchinson, Mrs. Beulah S. Thornton, Miss Emma Henkle, Miss Edna Headrick, and Mrs. Jeidy of Rickreall.

Mrs. Thornton attended Handel's oratorio "Semele" in Portland on Tuesday evening, May 2. This oratorio was sponsored by the Oregon Federation of Music Clubs as a pre-music week event. Mark Daniels, baritone soloist, gave an excellent performance. "Semele," featuring the combined Federated Chorus of 130 voices and the symphony orchestra, is based on a story taken from old Greek mythology.

As a part of his duties as director of elementary teachers training for the three colleges of education in Oregon, President J. A. Churchill just returned from Ashland where he visited the Southern Oregon College of Education for several days.

Miss Dora P. Hendy, the fifth grade supervisor and teacher at Independence training school, was married to Mr. Robert Kodak of Baltimore, Maryland, Tuesday, May 2. The event took place in Oregon and came as a surprise to Miss Hendy's friends.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Dodds and Dr. and Mrs. L. E. Forbes and sons attended the crab festival at Newport Sunday, May 7.

Mr. Dodds is making arrangements for the coast trip to be taken by his nature and bird study classes during the summer term. They will also visit the marine aquarium at Depoe Bay.

Ellis A. Stebbins left Monmouth Tuesday morning, May 4, for the University of Idaho at Moscow to study the cooperative dormitory system there. Traveling with Mr. Stebbins to observe the system were H. A. Bark, comptroller of the state system of higher education; J. O. Lindstrom, business manager of the University of Oregon and Anse Cornell, graduate manager of the University of Oregon.

Mr. Stebbins visited his nephew at Washington State college and stopped in Pendleton enroute to visit two former graduates of OCE—Ernest Calef, 1931 and Leonard Gustafson, 1936.

Dr. V. V. Caldwell reports the cooperative sophomore test scores are being rapidly completed and will be available for the seniors who took the tests soon. A cursory survey reveals that the scores made this year are somewhat higher than the scores made by last year's students.

Miss Bertha Brainard, former registrar of this school, has just returned from six months of travel through the east where she visited friends and relatives. She is now visiting friends in Monmouth.

Something unique in the matter of sales was the doughnut sale sponsored by the Washington-Yamhill county club on Wednesday, May 10. Miss Katherine Arbutnot is adviser of the group.

The Monmouth Civic club spent Thursday evening, May 4, visiting the flower gardens of the city. Among the very lovely faculty gardens visited were those of Miss Edna Headrick, Mrs. Florence Hutchinson, Miss Florence Beardsley and Miss Henrietta Wolfer, Miss Katherine Arbutnot, Dr. A. S. Jensen, H. E. Inlow, and A. C. Stanbrough.

Miss Helen Anderson was in Portland last week visiting the various high school seniors interested in attending the Oregon College of Education.

The faculty did right well by themselves at the raffle Monday evening with D. R. Dewey, A. C. Stanbrough, Miss Eleanore Gill and O. O. Christensen holding lucky tickets. It so happens that Miss Gill's one and only ticket brought her a nice lamp. Anyhow, we appreciate the faculty's cooperation with the student body in raising those much needed funds.

Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Dewey entertained Dr. and Mrs. D. H. Searling and daughter Paula Rae at dinner Sunday.

This boy Cereghino looks, to your correspondent, like a comer in the pitching department. That is, of course, if he can mature a slight semblance of control. He has a nice fast one, but nobody knows where it is headed for when he heaves it. We can say without a doubt that he has the nicest assortment of "stuff" we have seen this season, but it has no definite goal. A little control, Lefty, and you will go places.

Several of the Wolves have signed to play semi-pro baseball this season. Tuthill, Szedlak and O'Connell with Hill Creek of the state league, and Cereghino with Sweet Home. O'Connell has been doing himself proud for the state leaguers.

According to all indications Ickes, Chase and Hayworth are slated for Varsity O sweaters. Only a series of upsets can prevent them from winning them. Ickes has proved himself the surprise of the season.

To us, credit should be extended to Dutch Meyer for his fine work in the capacity of umpire this season. We like you, Dutch, but we just have to have some one to razz.

This boy Gerity looks like a real prospect in the high jumping department. Having never jumped under competition until this year, he has shown up remarkably well. The

WAA FLASHES

By Sue Richardson

Girls' house baseball is in full swing with several important games being played off this week. The class baseball teams have been selected and practice started Thursday, May 11, at 6:30.

Jean DeLurme, Jean Oake and Audrey Coyle display remarkable ability as pitchers! Congratulations kids!

Anyone who is interested in girls' baseball at its best should have witnessed the game between the Dorm girls and the Independent B's.

Our tennis team is really good! The girls won every match with Linfield, there. Good work, girls, keep it up!

These pyramiders are really working. Nice work, Elsie Houghtaling!

LaDanza still deserves a great deal of publicity. Although Marge Jensen tells us that this falling practice is certainly hard on one.

Sluggers like Raz, Tienken and the two Barber girls really make an interesting sport out of baseball!

Speaking of Raz — the WAA are pretty proud to know that such a splendid archer is one of their group.

Spring term's sports are almost over, but we've found a lot of winners. Sports-women of the first degree are those like our own girls who can take either victory or defeat!

Wolves Topple Pirates 18-3

The OCE Wolves, showing new life and batting power, swamped the Albany Pirates 18 to 3.

After a faltering start, big Jake Miller settled down and held the Pirates to a few scattered hits, while the siege guns of the Wolves opened up and shelled three Pirate pitchers for 18 runs. The Pirates never threatened the Wolves throughout the contest, except in the first inning, which ended one-all. In the second inning, the Wolves combined five hits and several Albany errors to garner seven runs. From there on, it was a consistent rout of the Pirates.

Coach Faber called on three of his pitchers to stem the slugging onslaught of the Wolves, but none seemed effective.

This is one of the few games the teachers have shown any consistent ball playing. Their hitting seemed to be timely, while the infield and outfield worked like a well-oiled machine. Miller seems to have at last found his stride and pitched fine ball for four innings. He was replaced by Mohler who allowed two of the Pirates' three runs. Lefty Cereghino finished the game, allowing no runs and for once seemed to have some semblance of control.

Wildcats Beaten At Linfield 8-4

The Wolves, playing in a sweltering sun Saturday, May 6, at Linfield college, dumped the Wildcats 8 to 4.

This contest was a well-played game by the Wolves, although the "Cats" seemed to have a slight case of "fumbilitis" as they juggled the ball around the infield, thus adding a humorous element to a sweat-filled afternoon.

Getting down to business promptly, the Wolves shelled the first Linfield pitcher into the showers with a withering barrage of hits. Linfield had evidently been saving Sandeen for the future, but they were forced to put him into the game. This pitcher neatly handcuffed the Wolves for the rest of the game. He displayed a nice curve and had plenty of control. But Jason Miller, the OCE speedball artist, also had good control and as he calmly burned them down the alley the "Cats" fanned the air in a futile attempt to overtake the Wolves. Two of Linfield's runs were scored as Miller's low, fast pitches got away from Lewis. Otherwise the Wolves showed great promise.

The Wolves' schedule has six more games and, according to the dope, they should win at least four of them and possibly the rest, if they continue to display the brand of ball they have been playing lately.

Girls Baseball Game Saturday

The girls of OCE have promised the local citizens a thrill when they tangle bats in a softball game on Butler field Saturday afternoon. This contest should really bring out the Wolverettes' technique in handling the national pastime. There should be some real slugging going on with the big bats of Colvin, DeLurme, Raz and Farley constantly booming. There should also be a real pitching duel between the stars of each team.

WAA Elects

At a meeting of all the Women's Athletic Association members recently, the following officers were elected for next year: Mildred Thomas, Portland, president; Elsie Knope, Yamhill, vice-president; Theresa McClellan, Scappoose, secretary; Eileen Barber, Culver, treasurer; and Dorothy Hufford, Foster, reporter.

Name Officers

Wednesday evening, May 17, the International club met and elected officers for the coming year. Daisy Minton was chosen president; Audrey Coyle, secretary-treasurer; and Dr. E. F. Barrows, adviser. The vice-president will be chosen next fall.

Order of O Initiates Eighteen

Several girls' work in Women's Athletic Association activities has earned them eligibility for membership in the Order of the O. Those girls who will become letter-women after the initiation are: Mary Barber, Eileen Barber, Helen Blanchard, Gladys Commons, Audrey Coyle, Eva Davidson, Charlotte Ellingsworth, Helen Goodknecht, Elsie Houghtaling, Juanita Harrington, Dorothy Hufford, Dorothy Homan, Elsie Knope, Dessie McClay, Theresa McClellan, Pearl Sovern, Mildred Thomas and Bernice Wilder.

OCE Victors Over Albany

Summer evidently is doing wonderful things to everybody including big Jake Miller, the fireball chucker of the OCE teachers. Big Jake pitched the Wolves to their fourth consecutive victory Wednesday, as he set the Albany college Buccaneers down to the tune of 9 to 7. Although he was replaced by Farthing, Miller had things well in check before the left the game in the sixth inning.

Timely hitting, paced by Lewis and Brandon, sewed up the game for the Wolves in the fourth inning. Until then it was even-steven until the Teachers began to pummel L. Pete for five runs to stretch the lead to 7 to 4. The "Bucs" could never completely overtake the locals but kept mauling the pill all over the park, much to coach J. Alfred Cox's disgust.

Lewis led all the hitters of the day by hitting four for four, but big sleepy Ben Brandon managed to collect two circuit-smashes to become the outstanding hitter of the day.

Odd to say, L. Pete tried hard enough to win the old ball game by connecting for three for five and allowing only five hits, but his teammates insisted on letting the elusive apple dribble all over the lot, committing seven errors which were responsible for the downfall of the Buccaneers.

Enjoy Party

Members of Omicron Pi Omega enjoyed a very delightful party at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Plummer on May 4. A formal initiation and candle ceremony was conducted by the officers of the chapter. Those initiated were: Grace Katka, Gladys Gavette, Muriel Nothiger, Blanche Ashmun, Cecelia O'Leary, Josephine Howard, Kathleen Larsen and Flossie Conoway.

After the initiation, a social time was enjoyed by all. Miss Laura J. Taylor, the adviser of the group, told of the history of the Oregon College of Education, after which appropriate refreshments were served.

Class Baseball Teams Chosen

After inter-house baseball, in which the Dorm girls were victors, teams for the class competition were chosen as follows:

Juniors—Elsie Houghtaling, Teresa McClellan, Audrey Coyle, Juanita Harrington, Bernice Wilder, Mary Barber, Elsie Knope, Helen Blanchard, Dorothy Hufford and Anita Davidson. Subs — Mildred Thomas, Charlotte Ellingsworth, Grace Tinken, Florence Camp and Margie Jensen.

Initiate Four

Collecto-Coeds held their formal initiation Tuesday evening in the music room of Jessica Todd hall.

The four new pledges, Cleo Caruthers, Marjorie Jensen, Juanita Harrington and Mildred Thomas repeated their pledge at an impressive candle ceremony. After the initiation, the girls had refreshments, and a short business meeting was held. The following were nominated as officers for next year: For president, Cleo Caruthers and Grace Tienken; for vice-president, Mildred Thomas; and for secretary-treasurer, Marjorie Jensen and Jean Appleberry.

Picnic on Knoll

On Thursday, May 4, 17 Camp-fire Girls and Miss Eleanore Gill hiked to Cupid's Knoll to enjoy their supper. The main feature of the supper was "Angels on Horseback," a novel way of roasting bacon around a piece of cheese. Campfire songs were sung and games were played before the girls put out the fire and returned to the campus.

Sigma Epsilon Pi Entertained

Miss Ida Mae Smith, as the guest speaker at the Sigma Epsilon Pi banquet Tuesday evening, May 2, told of her experiences in New York while she visited there in 1937-38.

Miss Smith gave the honor society a vivid picture of her experiences by telling of the various phases of her stay in New York. She first described her educational experiences and the courses at the Teachers' College which she attended. The churches and grand opera were described in some detail. Miss Smith attended several political rallies and some fine public forums at Madison Square Garden and the Waldorf-Astoria hotel. At the Book Fair she heard and saw the authors of both children and adult books which she had read. Wanda Gag, Thornton W. Burgess, Pearl Buck and Munroe Leaf (author of "Ferdinand the Bull") were some of the outstanding authors. The greatest thrill of the entire Book Fair was hearing Ida Tarbell, who visited the OCE campus at one time. She spoke on her 80th birthday anniversary.

Since Miss Smith is interested in the drama, she took advantage of the opportunity to see some of the best plays. The "Doll's House" by Ibsen, starring Ruth Gordon, was one of her favorites. Sam Harris' "I'd Rather Be Right," with George Cohen, and Jack Barton's "Tobacco Road" with Anthony Brown were also very good. "Golden Boy" by Clifford Odets was a play having some social significance. Orson Wells gave an excellent portrayal of Brutus in "Julius Caesar" in modern costume, a fact which added little to the production, in Miss Smith's estimation.

Miss Smith closed her talk by saying that one of the happiest moments of the whole trip was starting home to Oregon.

Phi Beta Sigma

This term a large number of students joined the ranks of the Phi Beta Sigma. The 15 elected to membership completed their initiation at a formal installation Wednesday evening, May 10. Those who were chosen as new members this term are: Maxine Bailey, Charlotte Ellingsworth, Emma Frances Mulkey, Martha Blair, Juanita Harrington, Lenora Jensen, Pauline Stein, Betty Funkhauser, Mildred Thomas, Tom Gerity, Ivan Ickes, Bud Tuthill, Sterling Jensen and Ed Miller.

Collecto's Initiate

The Collecto-Coeds initiated four new members this term. Those chosen for membership were: Marjorie Jensen, Cleo Carruthers, Juanita Harrington and Mildred Thomas. The initiation was rather embarrassing for some of the girls who were unused to appear in public sans make-up. The unusual dress parade lasted one week, ending Wednesday, May 11. Formal initiation completed the affair, and the four are now full-fledged Collecto-Coeds.

Men Nominate

Tuesday evening, May 9, the Associated Men Students of OCE nominated the following students as officers for next year:

President: Stanley Borden, Haland

Hankle.

Vice-president: Earl Tuthill, Tom Gerity, Ross Graham.

Secretary-Treasurer: Bill Wiegel.

Plan Picnic

The Crimson O Players met on Thursday evening, May 11, and again on May 18 to complete their plans for the annual picnic. They plan to make a trip to the coast to celebrate in grand jubilee fashion their hard work for the school year 1938-39. This is the big event of the years for the members and they are looking forward to it with a great deal of enthusiasm.

LA DANZA

Friday, May 12, the La Danza girls went to Corvallis to attend a program presented by the interpretive dance group of Oregon State college. The Master Dancer sent the La Danza girls a special invitation to attend. Last year La Danza attended the annual program held in Corvallis.

JUNIOR GIRLS' MEETING

On Tuesday, May 2, the junior girls held a council of war to decide what to do about the pie social. After deep cogitation and deliberation, the girls voted unanimously to bring pies. To help procure good results, they also agreed to challenge the senior girls to a contest to see whose pies—juniors or seniors would bring in more money.

This and that

Topic of the day is our new S.B. prexy. In his campaign speech he advocated a book store as a means to help get the student body out of debt, this has aroused comment from both sides. Some have pointed out that the University of Oregon's book store has been a failure and has never made a profit; others point to places where book stores have been successful. The success of the proposed book store rests in the hands of its administration. If we do get a book store it is necessary that political connections be overlooked. Three of the most capable persons on the campus ran for president, only one got it. The other two should not be neglected in our future policies.

Surprise candidate was Ervin Meade. Many of his suggestions should be followed, and one of the most important is the uncensored press. This school is one of a very few colleges that have faculty cen-

NOTICE—MEN!

You can help us quite a little, if you will, and the procedure is quite painless. The Esquire magazine wishes to find out what today's college men think of their magazine. If you will list your magazine choices and leave them in the Lamron office, we will be able to cooperate with their editor in this matter.

sors. The editor of a collegiate paper should be able to run his paper. If he can't, get some one that can!

Congratulations are due robust Jack Boon for his administration. There is going to be a vacant place on the campus next year when these graduating seniors leave. Let's appreciate them while we can!

And—on a lighter vein, here's news of a disillusioned male who took pains to secure a date weeks in advance, even then he wasn't sure, so he made two more dates for the same night. He appeared that night without a date and explained: "Esther went for a walk, Pauline was asleep and Charlotte didn't feel well!" Of course he wasn't one to doubt it, but —?

Several leaders on the campus are contesting the recent student body election and it looks as if they have several points which might make another election desirable. The unusual part of it is that the defeated candidates are not the ones who started the idea.

THE ATHLETIC OUTLOOK

Maupin leaper came within one-quarter of an inch of breaking Ross Hart's six feet, two inch record. Tom accomplished this amazing feat when he captured first place in the high jump in the OCE-Willamette dual meet. Several other outstanding performers were Jack Bryant, who cracked the school mile record of 4:45; speedy Jimmy Davies, who also gave the local gathering a thrill as he won the 220-yard dash and second place in the century run; Sterling Jensen, who galloped a nice half-mile to breast the tape ahead of his rivals. Mason and Emigh, in the weight division by capturing first and second. All around, the Wolves looked good as they captured the meet from Willamette by a score of 65-64, and that record-breaking relay won the meet after trailing all the way.

The girls' tennis team this year is one of the most successful of many seasons. To date they have won five out of six matches, losing only once to Linfield college. The feminine racqueteers are really playing some bang-up ball, and are very interesting to watch. Outstanding is Mildred Thomas' smashing game, and Martha Blair's steady, dependably good playing.

LOSE DUAL TRACK MEET

Two-mile—won by Bryant, OCE; Olseth, W, second; Dudson, OCE, third. Time 11:13.3.

Relay—won by Willamette's team of McKeen, Robertson, Lilly and Hogenson. Time 3:48.2.
